HASEEB FARRUKH

MERN Stack Developer

Dedicated and highly skilled MERN Stack Developer with 6 months of professional experience in designing and building innovative web applications. Proficient in full-stack development, I specialize in crafting dynamic, high-performance solutions that leverage the power of the MERN Stack. Seeking an opportunity to work in a challenging environment to prove my skills and utilize my knowledge and intelligence for the growth of the organization.

Work Experience

NEXTPAK AGILE SOLUTIONS

React.js Developer (3 months)

At NextPak Agile Solutions, I played a pivotal role as a React.js Developer, collaborating within a dynamic team environment to develop cutting-edge web applications. My responsibilities included front-end development using React.js, implementing Firebase for real-time database functionality, and ensuring seamless integration of user interfaces. This experience enhanced my proficiency in agile methodologies, teamwork, and problem-solving, enabling me to contribute effectively to the organization's success.

Freelancing

MERN Stack Developer (3 months)

As a freelance MERN Stack Developer, I independently conceptualized, designed, and implemented web applications for various clients. Leveraging my expertise in React.js, MongoDB, Express.js, and Node.js, I crafted bespoke solutions tailored to meet client specifications. This role honed my ability to work autonomously, manage project timelines effectively, and communicate seamlessly with clients to deliver exceptional results.

Projects

Portfolio

Developed and designed a personal portfolio website to showcase my skills as a Full stack developer. This platform not only exhibits a range of projects but also serves as a reflection of my dedication to creating modern, user-friendly web applications.
